

swissauto 250

Reactivation of unchargeable batteries:

First of all, only use a desulfating low amp battery charger.

Sometimes it is possible that the battery of your Swissauto engine is very low. In that case your charger will have trouble finding the correct pole what will result in a red led, meaning battery broken or unchargeable.

In that case connect a car battery between the charger and your Swissauto battery according to the following scheme to reactivate it.

